The New School of Music's mission is to foster a love and understanding of music throughout our community. In fulfillment of that mission, we

- Provide outstanding music education to students of all ages with a wide range of musical interests, levels of achievement, and financial means;
- Share our music with the public through performances and community events; and
- Promote a broadening musical engagement by extending ourselves into the community

Dear New School of Music Families,

For both new and returning families, welcome and thank you for being part of the New School of Music community. We are excited to have you in our community for our 41st year!

Our teaching faculty and administrative staff are here to support you, our families and students of NSM. We strive to make music a part of your life and would like to help you in any way possible. Should you have questions about the next step in your musical education, where to go for a great concert or need help finding a particular piece of music – just ask! All teachers and staff at NSM would be more than happy to help.

As NSM, your community music school, was founded to make music accessible to all, we invite you to take full advantage of all NSM has to offer. All students and families are welcome to join us for NSM's monthly school-wide student recitals, our faculty & guest artist concerts – and a host of special events throughout the year including our annual Performathon in April and Family Music Festival in June.

By enrolling at the New School of Music, you already know what a special place it is. However, in addition to our talented teachers who provide great programming, none of it would be possible without you – thank you. It is with your support that NSM can continue with its mission to grow and foster a love of music in our community. If you are interested in volunteering to support NSM, your community music school, we would welcome the offer. Opportunities include service days to keep our school safe and clean, event staff for concerts, administrative help in marketing; the opportunities are endless – if you would like to help in any capacity please let us know as we would be happy to have you.

Again, thank you for being part of our community at the New School of Music and I look forward to seeing (and hearing!) you around the school.

Sincerely,

Lauren A. Cook

NSM History

The New School of Music was founded in 1976 by composer, conductor, and musician, Nicholas Van Slyck with a mission to provide a community music school for students of all ages, levels of training and financial means. Our audience includes children, youth and adults, starting with students as young as infants. We serve over 500 music learners of all skill levels and experience in private lessons and group classes each year from within the Cambridge and greater Boston area.

True to our founding vision, The New School of Music maintains a focus on our original purpose of Music for All with affordable programs in a non-competitive, student centered learning environment. The New School of Music's teachers are active professionals with expertise in music education in addition to performing regularly throughout the region and abroad on stages big and small.

Student Conduct/Responsibilities

The study of music can be a joyous and rewarding experience. It offers a unique opportunity to develop one's self-expression, artistry and discipline. In order to make good progress, students should do the following:

- Attend lessons regularly and on time.
- Practice every day in a quiet place--quality of practice is as important as quantity.
- Keep instrument and books in good working order, and bring to every lesson.
- Talk to teachers about goals and how to achieve them.

Progress Report, opt-in Private lesson students at NSM have an option to opt-in to receiving a progress report from their private lesson teacher at the end of each term. The purpose of the progress report is to provide an overview of the student's development and aid in communication with all parties involved in the student's success at NSM.

Please notify either your teacher or the NSM office by your second lesson if you would like to receive a progress report. For reference, you'll find a blank copy for the progress report at the end of this document.

Studio Use

Help us keep NSM tidy! No food or drink is permitted in studios, with the exception of bottled water. Please help us by disposing of any food or drink in a trash can or recycling bin in the common areas of the school.

Please do not place any items other than sheet music on NSM pianos or keyboards.

Students and artists flourish in a quiet environment. Please be mindful that there may be several other lessons, rehearsals or performances going on at NSM during your lesson. We ask that you give them the courtesy of being quiet while in the building.

Studios are reserved for NSM teachers and their enrolled NSM students. For students who are enrolled at NSM and need practice space, please contact the NSM office to reserve a time; space is available on a first-come, first-service basis and can only take place while an NSM staff or faculty member is in the building.

NSM space is also available for student recitals; please talk to your teacher for more information. To rent NSM space for meetings or special events, please speak to the Registrar or Executive Director for more information.
